The Society of Procurement Officers in Local Government (SOPO) is the single largest representative organisation of Procurement Officers in local government. The organisation engages in a range of activities to promote its strategic purchasing, contracting and supplies functions. SOPO membership has grown from just fewer than 500 in 2000 to over 3100 members in 2009, fully reflecting the shift of buying responsibility across to procurement personnel. SOPO provides area networks and forums and produces guidance on best practice. Its aim is to advise local authorities throughout England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland on all purchasing and supplies matters of national and general interest, and to represent its members on other bodies to promote the society and its aims.
SOPO YEARBOOK 2010

1. The SOPO contact information, if qualified for through advertising, can be used once only as per the terms agreed, all intellectual property rights reserved. BiP Solutions Ltd and SOPO have adopted security measures to aid in the detection of infringements of its intellectual property rights in this publication. Unauthorised use will be charged at £1000 per unauthorised use.

2. BiP Solutions Ltd, hereafter referred to as the publisher, shall not be held liable for any loss or damage consequential or otherwise occasioned by error, late publication, deletion or omission in any advertising submitted for their publication, or for the failure of an advert to appear from any cause whatsoever.

3. It is understood and agreed that copyright in designs prepared by the publisher shall remain his property and advertisements including such designs may not be reproduced without his consent.

4. The advertiser warrants that the advertisement does not contravene any Act of Parliament nor is it in any way illegal or defamatory or an infringement of any other party’s rights or an infringement of the British Code of Advertising Practice.

5. The advertiser will indemnify the publisher against any damage or any infringement and/or loss and/or expense which the publisher may incur as a direct or indirect consequence of the advertiser's announcement.

6. Copy must be supplied without application from the publisher. In the event of copy instructions not being received, the publisher reserves the right to repeat the copy last used, alternatively the right to publish only the name and address of the advertiser if no previous copy was supplied and in either case the total price of the order will remain unaltered.

7. The publisher cannot accept responsibility for changes in copy unless these are confirmed in writing and in time for the changes to be made. The publisher reserves the right to charge for any additional expenses involved in such changes.

8. Copy matter must conform to the publisher’s requirements and any additional work involved may be charged for.

9. The publisher reserves the right to modify the wording of any classification or trade heading.

10. Where the copy includes a photograph, the publisher is in no way to be held responsible for any loss or damage whatsoever arising due to the quality of reproduction by him, his servants or agents of the photographs supplied.

11. The advertiser shall be responsible for the insurance of all artwork, transparencies and other advertisement material delivered by him to the publisher and the publisher cannot accept any liability for any loss or damage.

12. Where a layout or a proof is submitted to the advertiser it must be returned by the date specified on it; if not the publisher will print the advertisement in the same form as the layout or proof submitted.

13. The publisher reserves the right to destroy all copy and other layout materials which have been in his (or his printer’s) custody for one year provided that the advertiser or his agent has not given instructions to the contrary. Then the publisher may exercise his right without giving further notice to the advertiser.

14. The publisher cannot guarantee the position of any display advertisement. These advertisements will be placed as near as possible to the selected position as the page make-up permits.

15. The publisher reserves the right to charge interest at the rate of 1.5% per month, or part of a month, payable on demand in respect of any payments not made on or before the due date.

16. Cancellations or reductions to this order will only be accepted if notified in writing prior to the final copy date. Such cancellations will be subject to a charge related to the loss suffered, which will not be less than 25%.

17. Payment to the publisher is due in full upon receipt of the invoice.

18. SOPO Yearbook and the use of the information contained therein is subject to the licensed use conditions set by BiP Solutions Ltd.

19. The publisher cannot guarantee the publication of articles supplied. Feature articles will be printed at the publisher’s discretion and may be subject to change or editing.
